Solid State Tax Service opened its doors July 10 to assist the residents of Oak Grove and surrounding Milwaukie neighborhoods.

With its flagship location at the Station in Oak Grove, SST President Chance Currington pledged to assist clients with their personal and business income tax returns to achieve "the biggest refunds possible."

Currington, a lifelong Oregonian, is licensed as a tax consultant by the state of Oregon and was named an Enrolled Agent, the highest certification the Internal Revenue Service offers.

Recognizing that COVID-19 has affected the way people do business, SST offers to receive tax documents via text message or through its office mail slot that is constantly monitored by security cameras and an alarm system.

"Your documents will be safe," Currington said. "We will call you to confirm we have received them."

For those who still prefer to meet face to face, Currington said SST's office is set up strategically so that you can maintain social distancing with your tax preparer and communicate your tax goals effectively.
